Prophecy Sign: Daniel 7:24 Daniel 2:41-43 Revelation 6:5-6 Decline of the Euro

“The ten horns are ten kings Who shall arise from this kingdom. And another shall rise after them; He shall be different from the first ones, And shall subdue three kings.” (7:24)

“Whereas you saw the feet and toes, partly of potter’s clay and partly of iron, the kingdom shall be divided; yet the strength of the iron shall be in it, just as you saw the iron mixed with ceramic clay.

<sup>42</sup> And as the toes of the feet were partly of iron and partly of clay, so the kingdom shall be partly strong and partly fragile. <sup>43</sup> As you saw iron mixed with ceramic clay, they will mingle with the seed of men; but they will not adhere to one another, just as iron does not mix with clay.” (2:41-43)

“When He opened the third seal, I heard the third living creature say, “Come and see.” So I looked, and behold, a black horse, and he who sat on it had a pair of scales in his hand. <sup>6</sup> And I heard a voice in the midst of the four living creatures saying, “A quart of wheat for a denarius, and three quarts of barley for a denarius; and do not harm the oil and the wine.” (Revelation)

Headline: EU turf war on banking union may pose risks to Spain

The European Parliament is fighting for a bigger say in shaping the eurozone banking supervisor in a move which could hurt Spain. Putting the eurozone's banks and national supervisors under the ultimate authority of the European Central Bank (ECB) should have been a relatively easy task, or so EU leaders thought back in June. This was Germany's precondition for agreeing that ailing banks may access the eurozone fund directly, a demand made by Spain so that the €100 billion loan from the eurozone could be taken off its government debt. The plan was to get a final deal in December, so that the new authority can start early 2013 and Spain's debt be alleviated soon afterwards. But a turf war between the European Parliament and the EU Council representing member states over who has the final say on the freshly tabled legislation is likely to derail the calendar way beyond December.

“Come now, you rich, weep and howl for your miseries that are coming upon you! <sup>2</sup> Your riches are corrupted, and your garments are moth-eaten. <sup>3</sup> Your gold and silver are corroded, and their corrosion will be a witness against you and will eat your flesh like fire. You have heaped up treasure in the last days.” (James)

Headline: Federal Reserve to buy more debt to boost US economy

The US central bank has moved to kick-start economic recovery by restarting its policy of pumping money into the economy via quantitative easing. The Federal Reserve said it will buy "additional agency mortgage-backed securities at a pace of $40bn (£25bn) per month". Stock markets in the US and Asia jumped on the news, with European markets also expected to open higher on Friday. The US economy is a pivotal issue in this year's US presidential election. Interest rates in the US have been close to zero for several years now, and the Fed again kept them at below 0.25% on Thursday.

Headline: Tensions rise as China surveillance ships enter waters claimed by Japan

Six Chinese surveillance ships briefly entered waters near disputed islands claimed by Tokyo and Beijing on Friday, raising the stakes in a long-running territorial row between Asia's two biggest economies. China's foreign ministry said that the ships entered the disputed waters to carry out maritime surveillance and that for the first time China was carrying out a mission of "law enforcement over its maritime rights". "It reflects our government's jurisdiction over the Diaoyu islands," it said in a statement. The ministry has used similar language in the past. The islands, known as Senkaku in Japanese and Diaoyu in Chinese, are near potentially huge maritime gas and oil fields.

Yosemite park rangers have expanded a health advisory about a killer virus to nearly a quarter of a million people who have stayed there since June. The mouse-borne hantavirus is now known to have infected nine people - three of whom have died. There is no known cure. Officials at the California park insist their letters to more than 230,000 people are purely precautionary. Deer mice, which spread the infection, have increased in number and now the rodents are being trapped and killed. Yosemite initially sent a warning last month to 1,700 campers who stayed at a specific campsite, before gradually expanding that figure as infections emerged elsewhere.

Headline: Ebola outbreak out of control in Congo: WHO

An Ebola outbreak in Democratic Republic of Congo risks spreading to major towns if not brought under control soon, the World Health Organisation said on Thursday. The death toll has more than doubled since last week to 31, including five health workers dying from the contagious virus for which there is no known treatment. Ebola causes massive bleeding and kills up to 90 percent of its victims. "The epidemic is not under control. On the contrary the situation is very, very serious," Eugene Kabambi, a WHO spokesman in Congo's capital Kinshasa told Reuters by telephone. "If nothing is done now, the disease will reach other places, and even major towns will be threatened," he said.

Headline: Hepatitis outbreak kills 16 in South Sudan refugee camps

An outbreak of the Hepatitis E virus has killed 16 people in three South Sudanese refugee camps near the volatile border with Sudan, authorities and the United Nations said on Thursday. South Sudan's border region has been flooded with hundreds of thousands of refugees fleeing fighting in Sudan's South Kordofan and Blue Nile states. South Sudan's Ministry of Health has reported almost 400 cases of the virus since the outbreak was identified in July. "Cases are rising day by day, thus placing immense pressure on the available health services and resources. This is of grave humanitarian concern," the ministry said in a joint statement with U.N. agencies.

Headline: Niger floods and cholera claim 162 lives: UN

Floods in Niger have killed 81 people since July, the UN Office for Humanitarian Affairs announced Thursday, adding cholera outbreaks have killed a further 81 people. "The last update of the toll of the floods dating from September 11 indicates that 527,471 people have been affected by the bad weather and 81 people have lost their lives," OCHA said in a statement in Niamey. The previous toll established by the authorities was 68 dead and 485,000 people affected in the Sahel nation in West Africa. Thousands of homes, schools, health centres and mosques have been destroyed, along with large quantities of food supplies, according to the authorities. The UN office also reported outbreaks of cholera, which have claimed 81 lives since the start of the year, mainly in the west of the country. Sept. 14, 2012

Headline: IDF reinforces security along border fence with Syria

The Israel Defense Forces has recently been upgrading the fence along Israel's border with Syria in response to the ongoing fighting in the latter country. More than 90 percent of the fence, which is about 130 kilometers long in total, was built shortly after the 1973 Yom Kippur War. Therefore, major work is needed to make it suitable for the current situation, IDF officers said. Part of the problem is that severe weather in the Golan Heights has battered the fence over the years to the point where in certain places, it barely exists. The work began a few days ago. Among other things, the plans drafted by the IDF Northern Command call for placing dozens of new information-gathering sensors along the fence, electrifying parts of it so that it will warn of intruders, and laying mines along parts of the border.

Headline: EU to double Palestinian aid to 200 million euros

Headline: US to grant Palestinian Authority $200m

The European Union will double its aid for Palestinian development and the Palestinian Authority to 200 million euros in 2012, the EU executive said on Friday. The development aid will be focused on water, sanitation and support for refugees. A further 100 million euros aid credits unspent last year will be also spent in 2012, the European Commission said in a statement. "The decision shows our commitment to help the people of Palestine in the areas which are vital to their everyday lives," said Stefan Fuele, EU commissioner for enlargement and European neighborhood Policy. The European Union has been critical of Israeli settlement building and curbs on economic development in the occupied West Bank. EU foreign ministers in May expressed "deep concern," saying that such moves made it impossible to create a Palestinian state alongside Israel.

Jordan

Headline: HRW urges Jordan to release activists

Human Rights Watch on Friday urged Jordan to release activists detained last week during pro-reform demonstrations, criticizing the government's "toughening stand" toward their demands. "The arrest by security forces of well over a dozen peaceful reform activists since September 7, 2012, signals the government's toughening stand toward demands for political reform in the kingdom," said HRW. "The authorities should release all of those detained solely for the peaceful exercise of their rights to expression, association, and assembly," the New York-based watchdog said in a statement. "The security services arrested activists in various parts of the country for peacefully protesting or calling for reform, in what appeared a concerted move by security and judicial authorities against opposition groups." Those arrested last Friday include 10 activists from the southern towns of Tafileh and Karak, and seven from Amman.

Headline: Adviser says Egypt should control Sinai

The Camp David Accords with Israel should be modified to allow Egypt full control over the Sinai, says an adviser to President Mohamed Morsi. Mohamed Esmat Seif al-Dawla said the treaty "disarms" two-thirds of the peninsula, leaving the region without protection, al-Masry al-Youm reported. Protection by Egyptian armed forces will allow for real development in Sinai, Dawla said. Egypt must take full control of the area because "the Israeli media threatened to storm Sinai to mount pressure on Egypt," he said. Under terms of the 1979 treaty, only Egyptian police with light weapons are allowed to guard the border with Israel. Egyptian troops are prohibited from entering the peninsula without prior agreement.

New King James Version (NKJV)

- 24 Damascus has grown feeble;
She turns to flee,
And fear has seized her.
Anguish and sorrows have taken her like a woman in labor.
25 Why is the city of praise not deserted, the city of My joy?
26 Therefore her young men shall fall in her streets,

Headline: Syria: Christians take up arms for first time

The Christian community has tried to avoid taking sides in the civil war. In Aleppo, it recruited vigilantes from the Boy Scout movement to protect churches, but as the war moved into the city and spread across its suburbs they have begun to accept weapons from the Syrian army and joined forces with Armenian groups to repel opposition guerrillas. "Everybody is fighting everybody," said George, an Armenian Christian from the city. "The Armenians are fighting because they believe the FSA are sent by their Turkish oppressors to attack them, the Christians want to defend their neighbourhoods, Shabiha regime militia are there to kill and rape, the army is fighting the FSA, and the [Kurdish militant group] PKK have their own militia too." For the past six weeks up to 150 Christian and Armenian fighters have been fighting to prevent Free Syrian Army rebels from entering Christian heartland areas of Aleppo. Last month the Syrian army claimed a 'victory' in removing FSA fighters from the historic Christian quarter of Jdeidah. But Christian militia fighters told the Daily Telegraph it was they who had first attacked the FSA there.

The military says it has launched a large-scale ground operation backed up by fighter jets and helicopters in its escalating fight against the terrorist PKK in the province of Hakkari on Turkey's border with Iraq. Chief of General Staff Gen. Necdet Özel also went to Şemdinli, a district of Hakkari province, to monitor the operation, launched with seven battalions. ## The Arab Spring in Prophecy

(Perilous Times Luke 21:9 & Nation against Nation, Kingdom against Kingdom Matt.24:7)
(Revelation 6:3-4 Revelation 6:8)

“For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom.
There will be earthquakes in various places, and there will be famines and sedition; these are the beginning of the labor pains.”

Mark 13:8

UNREST

Luke 21:9 and Matthew 24:7 speak of nation against nation and kingdom against kingdom in the end times. Revelation 6:3-4 speaks of the fiery red horse given power to make men slay one another and Revelation 6:8 speaks again of this red horse in conjunction with the pale horse of Death and Hades, as the one that has the power to kill by sword. I like to call this “The Arab Spring in Prophecy” because for us it is easy to identify- that’s what the world calls it.

Luke 21:9: wars & commotions; the Greek word here is Akatastasia, meaning instability, a state of disorder, disturbance, confusion (revolutions)

Matthew 24:7: the Greek word for nation is Ethnos & refers to various ethnic groups fighting among themselves, where the next sentence in the verse refers to kingdoms (basileiva) fighting one another (not to be confused with an actual kingdom but rather the right or authority to rule over a kingdom) I have tried to separate it into areas that sweep EAST from the point of North America.

Headline: Muslim Brotherhood website demands that West criminalize ‘assaults’ on Islam

Without the “criminalization of assaults on the sanctities of all heavenly religions,” the Muslim Brotherhood warned on Thursday, insults to Islam “will continue to cause devout Muslims across the world to suspect and even loathe the West, especially the USA.” The remarks were part of a statement posted on the English-language website of the Brotherhood in response to a trailer for a new film, which the Egyptian ruling party says is insulting to Islam. Since the publication of the trailer earlier this week, violent anti-American riots have been raging at US diplomatic missions throughout the Middle East. In Benghazi, Libya, the American ambassador and three others were killed in a violent takeover of the consulate, and in Cairo and Sanaa, enraged mobs converged on the US embassies. According to the statement, "one and a half billion Muslims [were] subjected to humiliation and abuse in the person of their leader, Mohammed, the Messenger of God, the Prophet of Islam," due to the film.

Headline: FBI and DHS Warn of Terror Attacks in Response to Anti-Muslim Video

The FBI and the Department of Homeland Security have issued an unspecific terror warning as violence rages across the Middle East in response to an anti-Islamic movie "trailer" that appeared on Youtube. The intelligence bulletin warns that "the risk of violence could increase both at home and abroad as the film continues to gain attention" due largely to sensationalistic corporate media coverage. Despite the lack of a credible threat, the bulletin says "violent extremist groups in the United States could exploit anger over the film to advance their recruitment efforts." The short video appears to be "a contrived fraud designed to stir up unrest in the Middle East while shielding the true reasons behind the murder of Ambassador Chris Stevens," Paul Joseph Watson wrote for Infowar.com on Thursday. "Everything about the movie suggests it was a contrived fraud to artificially manufacture unrest in the middle east at a time where speculation that the U.S. and Israel are about to launch military interventions in Iran and Syria is rife," Watson notes.

Headline: Argentina: Thousands attend anti-Fernandez rallies

Tens of thousands took to the streets of Argentina's largest cities on Thursday, in protest against the policies of President Cristina Fernandez de Kirchner. The rallies, which were organised over social media, were far more widespread than similar ones in June. Among their grievances protesters named; strict currency controls, high crime rates and a rumored change to the constitution which would allow President Fernandez to serve a third term. Following her first four year term the President won a landslide re-election in October, but her approval ratings have since plummeted.

Africa- ONLY COUNTRIES NOT IN PROPHECY

Headline: Red Cross says Mali situation 'alarming'

More than half a million people in northern Mali, occupied by militants, need aid to cope with rising food prices, collapsed public services and a lack of health care, the International Committee of the Red Cross said yesterday. "The (humanitarian) situation is more and more alarming for the population, both the displaced and residents who have stayed put," Yasmine Praz Dessimoz, head of International Committee of the Red Cross for North and West Africa, told a news conference in Geneva. Mali was plunged into chaos in March when soldiers toppled the president, leaving a power vacuum that enabled militants from the north to seize nearly two thirds of the country.

"Public services practically no longer function, basic health services are not provided and supplying clean drinking water is difficult. Needs are huge," Praz Dessimoz said.

Headline: As strike looms, South Africa warns miners

South Africa announced Friday it would crack down on any possible violence as mine workers edged closer to declaring a general strike. The government said it would move "very swiftly" against anyone involved in an illegal gathering or carrying weapons, the BBC reported. Justice Minister Jeff Radebe declined to call the government's planned actions a state of emergency, but the military has been placed on high alert. A strike last month at the Marikana platinum mine turned violent as police shot and killed 34 miners.
