Headline: US, allies launch massive navy drill in Persian Gulf

The United States and 25 allies were in the midst of a massive 12-day navy drill Tuesday in strategic Middle East waterways. This year’s war games are believed to be the largest ever undertaken in the region. The annual drill comes amid threats of war between Israel and Iran over the Islamic regime’s nuclear program. The exercises, IMCMEX-12, focused on clearing mines that Tehran, or guerrilla groups, may deploy to disrupt oil tanker traffic in the Strait of Hormuz. The drill, according to participants, underlines their determination to keep oil shipping lanes open in case of regional turmoil. “Planning was completed last week for the exercise that will focus on a hypothetical threat to mine the international strategic waterways of the Middle East, including the Red Sea, the Gulf of Aden, the Gulf of Oman, and the Persian Gulf,” the US Central Command said in a statement, Bloomberg reported. The United States, Britain, France, Saudi Arabia and the UAE were among the chief participants. Cruisers, aircraft carriers, minesweepers, and other vessels were taking part.

Headline: Iran's Navy Launches Radar-Evading Missile Destroyer

Tehran has deployed one of its Russian-made submarines in the Persian Gulf, just days after the United States and more than two dozen allies began naval exercises nearby, Iranian state television reported Tuesday. The Taregh-1 joined the Iranian fleet in the southern port of Bandar Abbas after it was overhauled earlier this year, according to the TV report. It's one of three Russian Kilo class submarines that Iran obtained in the early 1990s. In May, Iran redeployed another Russian-made submarine after repairs. The report also showed the launch of what was said to be the partially completed hull of a destroyer, the Sahand, which the TV said is expected to be ready in the near future. Both launches came under the command of Iran's Supreme Leader Ayatollah Khamenei, who has final say on all state matters. He said Iran has no intention of invading other countries.

Headline: Wild rabbit tests positive for bubonic plague in Colorado Springs: Public health alert issued

El Paso County, Colo., health officials are urging anyone who has recently had contact with wild animals to contact the Public Health Department immediately. On Sept. 14, a wild rabbit was caught near St. Francis Medical Center/Hospital, east of Powers Boulevard. Subsequent testing revealed that the animal was infected with bubonic plague. Bubonic plague is, "a bacterial disease transmitted to humans by the bite of an infected flea. In humans, the symptoms are high fever, chills, headache, extreme fatigue and tender or swollen lymph glands," according to the El Paso County Public Health website. Health officials believe that all of the people exposed to the animal have been identified and treated to prevent them from developing the disease. There have been no reported cases of bubonic plague in El Paso county since 1991.

Headline: Two Indonesian volcanoes awaken, rattling nerves

Two of Indonesia's most active volcanoes erupted on Saturday, prompting the government to issue warnings to populations living near the affected mountains. The National Disaster Mitigation Agency (BNPB) said on Sunday that new eruption started at Lokon in North Sulawesi and Gamalama at Ternate in North Maluku. Lokon generated a 1,500-meter high ash plume and violent strombolian (low-level) activity with some lava flow, while Gamalama produced a shower of ashes that covered the nearby city. Sutopo Purwo Nugroho, a spokesman for BNPB, said on Sunday that Lokon, located in North Sulawesi's Tomohon area, erupted at 7 p.m. on Saturday. The explosion from the eruption shattered windows of the command post built to monitor the activities of the volcano, he said.

Headline: Syrian refugees in Jordan stone UN envoy's convoy

A group of Syrian refugees threw stones at UN peace envoy Lakhdar Brahimi's convoy on Tuesday as he left the Zaatari camp in Jordan where he pledged help despite the "worsening" conflict.

"Unfortunately, the situation in Syria is not likely to improve," Brahimi said during a brief visit to the camp in northern Jordan close to the Syrian border. "It is worsening. It is heading towards more deterioration," he said. "I am trying my best to help the Syrian refugees get out of this crisis."

A small crowd of angry Syrian refugees pelted his motorcade with stones as he left.

"Brahimi out! Brahimi out!" they chanted. A security official told AFP that around 200 refugees took part in the demonstration.

Headline: Pope Urges Muslims, Christians to Coexist in Lebanon

A day after arriving in Beirut, Pope Benedict XVI on Saturday urged Lebanon to be a model of coexistence of Islam and Christianity for the restive Middle East. His three-day visit comes amid concerns over the future of minority Christians in the region where Islamism is on the rise. "It is not uncommon to see the two religions within the same family. If this is possible within the same family, why should it not be possible at the level of the whole of society?" the pope asked during his address to political and religious leaders at the presidential palace on the second day of his visit. "Why did God choose these lands? Why is their life so turbulent?" AFP quoted the 85-year-old pontiff as asking.

Headline: U.S. suspends aid talks with Egypt over anti-American protests, report says

The United States has put negotiations geared at renewed U.S. financial aid to Egypt on hold following protests against an American-made anti-Islam movie, which started in Cairo and spread across the Muslim world, the Washington Post reported on Tuesday. Protesters have breached the walls or compounds of several U.S. diplomatic missions, including the consulate in Benghazi, Libya where the ambassador and three other Americans were killed. After last week's incidents, the State Department ordered all U.S. embassies and consulates around the world to review their security postures. As a result, a number of missions decided to destroy classified material, a U.S. official said on Monday. On Tuesday, U.S. officials speaking to the Washington Post said that talks between

Washington and Cairo geared at providing Egypt with much-needed financial aid were put on hold in the wake of the protest wave, and were not due to renew before the upcoming U.S. presidential elections.

New King James Version (NKJV)

- 24 Damascus has grown feeble;
She turns to flee,
And fear has seized her.
Anguish and sorrows have taken her like a woman in labor.
Why is the city of praise not deserted, the city of My joy?
- 26 Therefore her young men shall fall in her streets,
And all the men of war shall be cut off in that day," says the LORD of hosts.

Headline: Syrian army, rebels fight over Turkey border post

The Syrian army and rebel forces clashed on Tuesday in the north of the country Tuesday for control of the Tall al-Abyad border post with Turkey, the Anatolia news agency reported. Heavy machine gun fire and exploding shells could be heard from the Turkish side of the border near the town of Akcakale, where town hall officials asked residents by loud speakers to stay away from the border. Syrians are fleeing the area, Anatolia said identifying the rebels as members of the Free Syrian Army. Tall al-Abyad is about 100 kilometers (60 miles) north of the Syrian town of Ar Raqqa and its border post was relatively little used up until recently. Since late July Syrian rebels fighting the regime of President Bashar al-Assad have taken control of at least three key border crossings with Turkey – Bab al-Hawa, Al-Salama and Jarabulus.

Headline: Syria keeps promise to Turkey to unleash Kurds

The Syrian regime of President Bashar al-Assad has begun to unleash the Kurds inside Turkey, where there has been an uptick of Kurdish rebel attacks killing Turkish government troops, according to a report in Joseph Farah's G2 Bulletin. Kurds constitute an important minority in Syria and for years have sought autonomy in northern Syria to create an independent Kurdistan along with the Kurds in southeast Turkey and northern Iraq and Iran. The Kurds also are a large minority in Turkey and now the country is on alert for attacks from Kurdish rebels, called the Kurdish Workers' Party, or PKK. Turkey says those attacks are happening at the instigation of Iran and Syria. Because Turkey backs the overthrow of the al-Assad regime, both Syria and its ally Iran are pushing against Turkey by getting the Kurds in their respective countries to openly oppose Ankara through internal attacks. The Turkish government recently launched a pre-emptive strike against the PKK in its southeast portion of the country. However, there has been a rise in PKK activity in Hatay province, which has given rise to Turkish concerns that Iran as well as Syria are aiding the PKK and its backers in Syria.

Headline: Iranian foreign minister to visit Damascus

Iranian Foreign Minister Ali Akbar Salehi is to arrive on Wednesday in Damascus, where he will meet his counterpart, Walid Muallem and other officials, a Syrian government source said. His visit comes on the heels a meeting in Cairo of the "contact group" on Syria – grouping Iran, Egypt, Saudi Arabia and Turkey – and attended by peace envoy Lakhdar Brahimi on Monday evening. Tehran, which is closely allied to Damascus, is proposing that the four countries dispatch observers to Syria in an effort to quell the violence. Salehi told his Egyptian and Turkish counterparts in Cairo that observers from their countries, as well as from Saudi Arabia, could "monitor the process of stopping the violence in Syria," Iran's official IRNA news agency said.

The Arab Spring in Prophecy

(Perilous Times Luke 21:9 & Nation against Nation, Kingdom against Kingdom Matt.24:7)
(Revelation 6:3-4 Revelation 6:8)

"For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom.
There will be earthquakes in various places, and there will be famines and sedition; these are the beginning of the labor pains."

Mark 13:8

CIVIL UNREST

Luke 21:9 and Matthew 24:7 speak of nation against nation and kingdom against kingdom in the end times. Revelation 6:3-4 speaks of the fiery red horse given power to make men slay one another and Revelation 6:8 speaks again of this red horse in conjunction with the pale horse of Death and Hades, as the one that has the power to kill by sword. I like to call this "The Arab Spring in Prophecy" because for us it is easy to identify- that's what the world calls it.

Luke 21:9: wars & commotions; the Greek word here is Akatastasia, meaning instability, a state of disorder, disturbance, confusion (revolutions)

Matthew 24:7: the Greek word for nation is Ethnos & refers to various ethnic groups fighting among themselves, where the next sentence in the verse refers to kingdoms (basileiva) fighting one another (not to be confused with an actual kingdom but rather the right or authority to rule over a kingdom) I have tried to separate it into areas that sweep EAST from the point of North America.

Headline: Yemenis protest to end Saleh immunity

Tens of thousands of Yemenis protested in Sanaa Tuesday against the immunity granted to ousted president Ali Abdullah Saleh, as they commemorated a deadly attack by his forces last year against an anti-regime demonstration. "No immunity, no guarantee... Saleh and his aides must be brought to justice," chanted the protesters who marched from the capital's university towards the city center, an AFP correspondent reported. On this day last year, Yemeni security forces opened fire on anti-Saleh demonstrators in Sanaa, killing 35 people and wounding hundreds more. The protesters came under fire after they had left Sanaa's Change Square, epicenter of the protests, and marched towards Al-Zubairi road in central Sanaa. On Tuesday demonstrators marched on the same route as they vowed to bring Saleh, whom they hold responsible for the killings, to justice.

Headline: Six dead, several injured in Karachi twin blasts

A girl child among six others was killed while over a dozen suffered injuries, mostly women and kids, in twin bombs that exploded near Hyderi market. Improvised Explosive Devices (IEDs) were used in carrying out today's deadly explosions, said the Bomb Disposal Squad. The bombs went off within minutes of each other in the usually crowded Hyderi Market, said police. The first bomb exploded in a garbage cabin and three minutes later another went off at the main parking lot in which about a dozen vehicles were damaged, he said. Rangers personnel and police have arrived at the scene where rescue and relief services are also carrying out their activities. Shops in the nearby market were closed down immediately after the blasts. The powerful blasts destroyed two vehicles and damaged several others parked nearby while window panes of the surrounding buildings were also shattered. Police authorities have already launched an investigation into the deadly explosions.

Protests against an anti-Islam film spread to Thailand, northwestern Pakistan and Indian-controlled Kashmir Tuesday, while an insurgent group in Afghanistan claimed responsibility for a suicide attack it says was in response to the video. In Peshawar, Pakistan, protesters threw stones and chanted anti-American slogans as police lobbed tear gas to try to push them back from the U.S. consulate.
